THE LLRC RESHUFFLE

To provide better service to students and faculty, the ground floor layout of the LLRC has been reorganized. The reference department is now all in one location - on the South side of the library. "From the first day I worked in this library, I couldn't understand why the reference department and periodicals were so far apart," states Gladys Dunkle, LLRC Director. This summer, the library was re-arranged.

CONVENIENCE was the major consideration. Since periodicals contain the most recent published data available for research, Dunkle felt it was logical to combine the reference section with that department.

STAFFING was also a factor. The periodical department includes indexes, CD-ROMs and other databases, which read our paper and follow up on the information in it.

Finally, we wish Dr. Claudia Chiesi every success in her new post at Lorain County Community College in Cleveland. We are grateful to Claudia for her brilliance, and for the warm support and encouragement she has given to us. We would like her to know PBCC is a better place because she has been here.

Gladys L. Dunkle

Hi there, hope you had a good summer. We've been busy. As you will read in this issue, the LLRC first floor has been reorganized. It's been a big job, but now that it's finished, we feel the service the library offers to students and faculty is more efficient. For your convenience, we've printed a map.

Welcome to the new instructors - and to those who have returned - for the Fall Term at the Edward M. Eissey Campus. We hope to see you all in the library and will be happy to assist with your study plans and research projects.

Despite the LLRC reshuffle, I managed to squeeze in a trip to Chicago for the 109th Annual Conference of the American Library Association. It was a rewarding experience - especially listening to the address given by Richard M. Dougherty, ALA President, on the importance and power of reading today. The response to the GAZETTE has been gratifying. The very day our last issue carrying the story that ERIC joined our CD-ROMs came out, we had enquiries about this new database. We are delighted staff and faculty

■ LLRC

Director Ties the Knot

On 9 August, LLRC Director Gladys Dunkle married Bernard J. Fischesser at the United Methodist Church of Jupiter/Tequesta. Mr Fischesser is Vice President of Tonney Penna Associates, in Jupiter. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fischesser went on a honeymoon cruise to the Bahamas. For professional use on campus, Mrs. Fischesser will continue to be known as Gladys Dunkle.

Recent Acquisitions for August

LLRC EXPRESS

(Suggested summer reading to beat the heat at the cabana, vacation trip, or a diverting alternative to re-runs on TV.)

TWINS

Roxanne Pulitzer (Villard)

Just about everything you wanted to know - and, possibly some things you may not - about raising children on the island across the Intra-coastal.

NEMESIS

Rosamond Smith (Dutton)

After a composer rapes a student he is done in by poisoned chocolates. Pianist Maggie Blackburn wonders if justice is accomplished. Excellent writing.

GET SHORTY

Elmore Leonard (Delacorte)

Bang-bang dialogue, off-the-wall characters, and the menacing side of Hollywood. Despite quirky narrative, you'll read away.

MESSAGE FROM NAM

Danielle Steel (Delacorte)

Columnist Paxton Andrews comes face-to-face with terror and tragedy - and her own feelings - in the Viet Nam war.

SEPTEMBER

Rosamunde Pilcher (St Martin's)

Guests are invited to a 21st birthday party in Scotland; stay in well-vetted private homes, and interact. A cosy read.

THE SILENCE OF THE LAMBS

Thomas Harris (St Martin's)

Attractive FBI trainee interviews brilliant psychiatrist who turns out to be a grisly killer and becomes involved. You won't put this book down.

DAVE BARRY TURNS 40

Dave Barry (Crown)

Pulitzer Prize-winning Miami Herald columnist ponders on the various crises of middle age.

GARBO

Antoni Gronwicz (Simon and Schuster)

Controversial memoir of the enigmatic cinema queen.

— AV Notes —

Iceland on Northwood Panel

AV specialist Richard Iceland recently was a panelist at a "Starting Your Own Business" Seminar held at the Northwood Institute.

Together with two other local businessmen and entrepreneurs, Iceland fielded questions asked by business students enrolled at the college. Iceland, official videographer for the Palm Beach Bar Association Seminars, explained how he got started in his forensic photography business, a service that supplies attorneys with videotapes and still photography to be used in litigation. He illustrated that by employing business methods gained from courses at the Northwood Institute and guidelines given him by the Small Business Administration, he developed and organized his own successful business.

generally have to be explained to patrons who are first-time users. Because of a small library staff, placing reference and periodicals together would make it possible - when necessary - for one staff member to help in both areas. THE ADDITION OF FAU HOLDINGS - general circulation and reference - was another deciding factor. Because FAU circulating collection is catalogued in the Library of Congress System (PBCC uses the Dewey System), those books had to be placed in a separate section. For easy access, PBCC and FAU referenced books are shelved together, and all hard-cover business indexes (Moody, Standard & Poor, etc.,) grouped in a special section.

A map is included in this issue to acquaint faculty, staff, and students with the new library floor plan. Please fill out the coupon below, clip it out and send to us if you wish to participate in one of the LLRC orientation seminars that will include a tour of the LLRC, demonstration of CD-ROMs and databases, and an AVE equipment demonstration in the Media Lab.
